ANNUAL REPORT ON ANTI-RAGGING AND SEXUAL HARASSMENT CELL 2023-24

The Anti-Ragging Committee at Narayana College of Nursing successfully maintained a ragging-free environment during the 2023-24 academic year. Throughout the year, the committee conducted orientation programs, awareness campaigns, and counselling sessions led by Mrs. Jyothirmy Advocate, to educate students on the importance of a respectful campus culture. No complaints of ragging were reported, highlighting the effectiveness of the preventive measures. Regular surveillance and an anonymous complaint mechanism contributed to a safer environment, with positive feedback from students. Looking forward, the committee aims to enhance digital outreach and introduce peer mentoring to continue fostering a supportive and inclusive atmosphere on campus.

ANNUAL REPORT ON ANTI-RAGGING AND SEXUAL HARASSMENT CELL 2022-23

The Anti-Ragging Committee at Narayana College of Nursing effectively maintained a ragging-free environment during both the 2022-23 academic years. In 2022-23, the committee laid the groundwork by conducting a series of orientation programs and awareness campaigns, which established the importance of a respectful campus culture. Building on this foundation, the committee continued its efforts in 2022-23, organizing additional orientation sessions and counselling programs led by Mrs. Jyothirmy Advocate. Throughout both years, no complaints of ragging were reported, underscoring the effectiveness of the preventive measures implemented. Regular surveillance and an anonymous complaint mechanism further enhanced safety, receiving positive feedback from students. Looking ahead, the committee plans to strengthen digital outreach and introduce peer mentoring to continue promoting a supportive and inclusive atmosphere on campus, ensuring that the values of respect and kindness remain at the forefront of the college experience.

ANNUAL REPORT ON ANTI-RAGGING AND SEXUAL HARASSMENT CELL 2021-22

The Anti-Ragging Committee at Narayana College of Nursing successfully maintained a ragging-free environment during the 2021-22 academic year. Throughout the year, the committee conducted orientation programs, awareness campaigns, and counselling sessions led by Mrs. Jyothirmy, Advocate, who provided valuable insights into the legal implications of ragging and the importance of a respectful campus culture. Additionally, workshops were organized to empower students with conflict resolution skills and promote bystander intervention.

No complaints of ragging were reported during the year, highlighting the effectiveness of the preventive measures implemented. Regular surveillance and an anonymous complaint mechanism contributed to a safer environment, and students provided positive feedback regarding their sense of security and well-being on campus.

The committee also collaborated with faculty members to ensure that all academic departments were aware of anti-ragging policies, fostering a unified approach to maintaining a respectful campus. To further engage students, the committee organized interactive sessions where students could voice their concerns and suggest improvements.

They plan to introduce peer mentoring programs, pairing senior students with newcomers to facilitate integration and support, thereby continuing to foster a supportive and inclusive atmosphere on campus. By implementing these strategies, the committee seeks to ensure that the values of respect, kindness, and community continue to thrive within the college.

2019-20

The Anti-Ragging Committee at Narayana College of Nursing successfully maintained a ragging-free environment during the 2019-20 academic year. Throughout this period, the committee organized orientation programs, awareness campaigns, and counselling sessions led by Mrs. Jyothirmy, Advocate, who offered valuable insights into the legal implications of ragging and emphasized the importance of fostering a respectful campus culture. Workshops were also conducted to empower students with conflict resolution skills and promote bystander intervention.

The effectiveness of the preventive measures was underscored by the absence of any reported complaints of ragging. Regular surveillance and an anonymous complaint mechanism further contributed to a safer environment, with students expressing positive feedback about their sense of security and well-being on campus.

The committee collaborated with faculty members to ensure that all academic departments were well-informed about anti-ragging policies, fostering a unified approach to maintaining a respectful campus. To enhance student engagement, interactive sessions were organized, allowing students to voice their concerns and suggest improvements.
