Narayana College of Nursing under SNA UNIT celebrated international nurses day on 12th May 2017. The celebration of International Nurses Day started in 1965 by the International Council of Nurses (ICN). This day is the birth anniversary of the famous Florence Nightingale. She was an English nurse, social reformer, and statistician. During the Crimean war, she gained fame while serving as a manager and trainer of nurses, being the pillar of modern nursing. She brought a reputation for nursing and became an icon in Victorian culture. The aim of the Nurses Day Celebration was to raise awareness of the important role that nurses play in society and at the same time, to increase their confidence and give them a big appreciation. Nursing can promote gender equality in social and economic development. Reports show investment in nursing can have a triple impact of better health, greater gender equality and stronger economies. With approximately 50% of nurses being younger than 35 years of age, this workforce will energize nursing in the country. International Nurses Day is celebrated every year on 12th of May, the birth anniversary of Florence Nightingale. The shortage puts a strain on the current workforce as nurses are caring for patients at every hour, every minute of the day. Nurses truly are frontline heroes. Often times nurses are parents themselves, leaving their loved ones at home to save lives. We must all acknowledge the great sacrifice they do for the health of all. Thank you for saving lives and keeping our loved ones safe.

REPORT: ONAM CELEBRATIONS, 4th SEPTEMBER 17

Narayana College of Nursing under Student Nurses Association was celebrated Onam on 4.09.2017. Onam commemorates King Mahabali and Vamana. Within the textual tradition (primarily Mahabharata), Mahabali is noted to be an Asura, who found liberation at the feet of Vishnu through charity and religious rectitude. However, there are other interpretations of the same myth-cycle. In the state-sanctioned celebrations, Mahabali is portrayed as a cultural hero: a just and benevolent ruler, he chose to even give up his rule/life for protecting his subjects, and was allowed by Vamana to return once a year.¹

. Onam is a time to show off the vast cultural heritage and rich variety for all keralites who celebrate it with much vigor than any other festival. Narayana College Of Nursing Onam Celebrations were held on the 4th of September 2017 amidst great cheer and the cultural extravaganza witnessed participation of students, teaching and non-teaching staff of the college, especially in their traditional sarees. Onam celebration was organized by 3rd year B.Sc (N) students under the guidance of SNA advisor.

.The program started with athapoovu (flower decoration), group song, arrival of King Mahabali and traditional Thiruvathira dance. Students and staff members played and enjoyed various outdoor games. The floral arrangements looked more beautiful and traditional lamps lit by the principal. This harvest festival of Kerala brings a divine message of unity in diversity. Onam on the college premises amidst much fanfare involving staff and students of the college. The celebrations started with setting up of an attractive floral decoration (pookalam) in the reception area that was reminiscent of the agrarian past of Kerala, a South Indian state. Impressive designs and artistic creativity were the hallmarks of the Pookalam, which turned out to be attractive and mesmerizing and took everyone into a world of festivity and fun. The arrival of Mahabali amid the beats of panchavadyam was well-received by the audience. Kerala special program of thiruvathira was performed by many group of students. All had good time in Onam. Without "Onasandya" one cannot imagine onam celebration. Another attraction of the day was the traditional 'onasadya' that comprised more than 15 dishes served on banana leaves and included varieties of vegetables, rice, banana and payasam. Onasandya was prepared by the 3rd year B.Sc students with 25 items. Onasandya was served in traditional way. The staff and students enjoyed the sumptuous Onam feast which was served to them.
