Report on Career Counselling Program on Career Pathways in Nursing 01/04/ 2024

On January 4, 2024, Narayana College of Nursing successfully conducted a Career Counselling Program on Career Pathways in Nursing in the Smart Classroom, inviting all second-year B.Sc. Nursing students to explore diverse career options in the field of nursing. The program aimed to equip students with essential knowledge about emerging opportunities, required skillsets, and strategies for building a rewarding career in the healthcare sector.

The event commenced with a welcome address by the organizing team. Prof. Vanaja Kumari from Narayana College of Nursing delivered an insightful keynote address, focusing on the importance of early career planning, specialization pathways, and continuous professional development. She discussed emerging areas in nursing such as critical care, oncology, public health, and mental health nursing, encouraging students to explore higher education options like M.Sc. Nursing, Nurse Practitioner roles, and research programs.

Dr. Prem Kumar, Principal of Gambella University, provided an international perspective, highlighting global nursing trends and the growing demand for skilled nurses in international healthcare settings. He emphasized the importance of acquiring international certifications like NCLEX, IELTS, and OET to enhance employability abroad. He also stressed the value of cross-cultural competence, participation in healthcare conferences, and involvement in research to build a robust career.

The interactive session that followed was a highlight, with students engaging in discussions on topics such as choosing specializations, balancing personal and professional life, and the impact of technology on nursing. Both speakers encouraged students to focus on developing leadership, critical thinking, and soft skills, which are essential for career growth.

The event concluded with an engaging Q & A session, where students sought guidance on career mobility, future trends in healthcare, and job opportunities both in India and internationally. The students expressed gratitude for the enriching session, stating that it provided them with greater clarity and motivation to pursue their career goals.

Report on Career Counselling Program on RRB Staff Nurse Officer Exams on April 24, 2024

This is to inform you that Narayana College of Nursing has organized a Career Counselling Program on RRB Staff Nurse Officer Exams on April 24, 2024. The program invites all IV Year B.Sc., II Year PB.B.Sc., and I & II Year M.Sc. Nursing students to participate. This session aims to provide comprehensive guidance on preparing for the Railway Recruitment Board (RRB) Staff Nurse Officer Exams, including an overview of the exam structure, syllabus, eligibility criteria, and essential preparation strategies.

The program will feature an insightful lecture by Prof. Challa Venku Reddy, who will share effective study techniques, time management skills, and approaches for tackling practice questions related to nursing subjects. He will also address critical topics such as general nursing, pharmacology, and health assessment, which are key components of the exam. In addition to exam preparation, Prof. Reddy will discuss the importance of developing strong clinical skills and knowledge, which are vital for a successful career in nursing.

Participants will gain insights into the application process, including tips on creating an effective resume and preparing for interviews in the government sector. The session will also provide information about the benefits of working as a staff nurse in the railway sector, including job stability, opportunities for career advancement, and the chance to make a meaningful impact in healthcare.

The event will be conducted in the Smart Classroom, utilizing advanced teaching aids such as presentations, videos, and interactive discussions to create an engaging learning environment. Students will have the opportunity to ask questions, participate in discussions, and connect with peers who share similar career aspirations.

This program is designed to equip students with the necessary knowledge and skills to excel in the RRB exams and explore promising career opportunities in government healthcare.

Report on Career Counselling Session for TSPSC Staff Nurses Exam – 14/09/2022

On September 14, 2022, a career counselling session was conducted at Narayana College of Nursing to guide nursing students and aspiring professionals preparing for the TSPSC Staff Nurses Exam. The objective of the session was to provide insights into the importance of ethics and professionalism in nursing and its relevance for succeeding in competitive exams and delivering patient-centered care in healthcare settings.

The event commenced with a welcome address by Prof. Vanaja Kumari, HoD department of Community health Nursing at Narayana College of Nursing, who emphasized the significance of professional guidance in preparing for government exams. She highlighted the growing demand for well-trained and ethical nursing professionals in the public healthcare system and the importance of integrating these values into exam preparation and clinical practice.

The keynote address was delivered by Dr. Vina Vaswani, MD, a distinguished academic from Yenepoya University, Mangalore. Her address covered key themes such as:

- Ensuring Patient Rights and Advocacy: Dr. Vaswani stressed the nurse's role as a protector of patients' dignity, autonomy, and privacy. She emphasized the importance of advocating for patients, especially in complex healthcare environments, and ensuring their active participation in decision-making processes.
- Enhancing Professional Relationships and Conduct: She discussed the importance of maintaining professional boundaries, fostering respectful relationships with colleagues, and promoting teamwork across multidisciplinary healthcare teams. Strong interpersonal skills, she noted, are essential for creating a positive healthcare environment and delivering optimal patient outcomes.
- Promoting Continuous Learning and Self-Improvement: Dr. Vaswani encouraged participants to embrace lifelong learning by staying updated with evolving healthcare trends, pursuing higher education, and engaging in self-reflection to enhance their clinical skills and professionalism.

Dr. B. Anuj
Principal

She also linked these values to the TSPSC Staff Nurses Exam, advising participants on how ethical knowledge, patient advocacy, and professionalism could play a vital role not only in passing the exam but also in their long-term career growth. Her insights on balancing exam preparation with clinical experience and ethical responsibilities resonated strongly with the attendees.

The session concluded with a vote of thanks by Dr.Kumari, HOD (OBG) at Narayana College of Nursing, who expressed her gratitude to the keynote speaker for the inspiring and insightful presentation. She thanked the participants for their active involvement and encouraged them to apply the lessons learned both in their exam preparation and future nursing practice. Dr.Kumari reiterated the importance of ethics and professionalism in building a successful career in nursing, especially within the public healthcare sector.

This session provided participants with valuable career guidance, linking ethical nursing practices with success in the TSPSC Staff Nurses Exam. It also reinforced the importance of maintaining high standards of professionalism and patient advocacy throughout their nursing careers, preparing them not only to pass the exam but also to excel in clinical roles in government healthcare institutions.

Report on JIPMER Nursing Officer Exam Preparation Session – 15/06/2019

On May 15, 2019, Narayana College of Nursing organized a comprehensive preparatory session for nursing students aiming to take the JIPMER Nursing Officer Exam. The event commenced with a welcome address by Dr. Vanaja Kumari, who emphasized the critical importance of strategic preparation in navigating the competitive landscape of nursing employment. She encouraged students to actively engage in the session to gain insights that would enhance their chances of success.

The keynote address was delivered by Mr. Srinivasa Rao, Manager of HR at Narayana Medical College and Hospital, Nellore. He provided a detailed overview of the exam pattern and syllabus, breaking down the various components of the exam and highlighting the specific subjects that students should focus on, such as medical-surgical nursing, pediatrics, and community health nursing. Mr. Rao underscored the necessity for candidates to become familiar with the format of the questions, including multiple-choice questions (MCQs), to alleviate any anxiety during the actual exam.

He also shared effective time management strategies to help students navigate the exam efficiently. By illustrating techniques for prioritizing questions and allocating time wisely to different sections, he equipped attendees with tools to maximize their performance. Additionally, he emphasized the importance of developing strong question-solving skills through regular practice with sample papers and mock exams.

To further support their preparation, Mr. Rao highlighted the significance of cultivating general aptitude and reasoning skills, which are essential for performing well on nursing examinations. He encouraged students to engage in exercises that promote critical thinking and analytical abilities, such as puzzle-solving and logical reasoning tasks. He also recommended resources, including online platforms and study groups, to foster collaborative learning and exchange of knowledge among peers.

Throughout the session, there was an interactive Q&A segment where students could seek clarification on their concerns regarding the exam. Mr. Rao provided personalized advice on overcoming common challenges faced by candidates, such as managing exam stress and maintaining motivation during preparation.

The event concluded with a vote of thanks by Dr.Latha, IQAC Coordinator, who expressed appreciation for Mr. Srinivasa Rao's invaluable insights and expertise. She motivated students to implement the strategies discussed in their study routines, emphasizing that dedication and disciplined preparation are key to excelling in the JIPMER Nursing Officer Exam. Overall, this preparatory session was instrumental in equipping nursing students with the knowledge, strategies, and confidence needed to approach the exam successfully, ultimately contributing to their career aspirations in the nursing profession.
